DRAGGED TO HIS DEATH.

Small Boy the Victim of a Fatal Accident at LaFayette.

KILLED BY A TEAM.

His Lifeless Body Found Hanging to the Gear-ing.

A boy named Vaden Hancock, a little son of the widow of the late James Hancock, at Lafayette, was dragged to death by a team Wednesday afternoon. The boy was only 11 years old. He started from his home to a tobacco patch a mile away driving a team hitched to a wagon that was being used to house tobacco. It was necessary for him to drive along the public road for nearly a mile. The first knowledge of the accident was when some one going along the road met the team walking leisurely along with the boy's dead body hanging across the tongue in such a way that both his head and feet were on the ground. The child was taken out but was dead. His hat was found nearly a mile from where the team was stopped and he was evidently dragged that distance. Just how the accident occurred is not known, as the little fellow was alone.

A later report says a negro at work in the field saw the boy fall out of the wagon while going down a little hill. He was standing up and driving the team and pitched forward. The man was following on trying to catch up when other parties met the team.

GRACEY GRAINS

Gleaned From the Field of News.

Gracey, Ky., Sept. 20.—The body of J. J. Thomason, of Paducah, was brought to Trigg county for interment a few days ago. Mr. Thomason was a carpenter who died from lockjaw caused from sticking a nail in his foot. One of his sisters is Mrs. R. O. Torian, of Hopkinsville.

Mrs. M. A. Meacham, who is still a cripple from a fall received last January, has moved from her farm near here to the residence of her son, J. P. Meacham, in Gracey. She will not attempt to conduct her farm in future.

The public school here has begun in the handsome and commodious new school building of three rooms. Misses Lizzie Knight and Lizzie Nance are the teachers.

West Union Baptist church has not yet called a pastor.

H. R. Morgan has succeeded the late M. M. Martin as carrier on rural route No. 3.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

BOY BURGLARS

Are Sent To The State Reformatory.

Ed Coleman and Herschel Combs, the two white boys who burglarized the Planters' Hardware Co.'s store Saturday night, were tried before Acting County Judge W. L. Parker and committed to the State Reform School. Their parents were willing for them to go, as the boys had become incorrigible. They are 13 years old and will remain until they are reformed or until they are 21 years old. Jim Meers, was not implicated in the affair to any considerable extent and the charge against him was not pressed. Lieut. Booth Morris took the boys to the school Thursday.

BASEBALL BAT DEADLY WEAPON

Young School Teacher Assaulted And Probably Will Die.

IS STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Ulysses Ratliff the Assailant, at Castleberry Church.

George Woodson Lacy, a young medical student who is working his way through college by teaching in the county schools, was assaulted with a baseball bat at Castleberry school house, six miles west of Crofton, Thursday at noon, by Ulysses Ratliff. The exact nature of his injury is not known, but yesterday Lacy had partly regained consciousness.

The school children during the noon recess were playing ball and Ratliff came along and interfered with them in some way. Lacy was in the house and the children reported the trouble to him. He came out and an altercation took place, the nature of which is not reported, the result of which was that Ratliff struck Lacy on the head, knocking him senseless.

The young teacher is a son of George Lacy, of Fruit Hill, and is a splendid young man, who has completed two years of his medical course through his own exertions. He is 23 or 24 years old. Ratliff is a man 35 or 40 years old, a son of the late Byron Ratliff, Esq. J. W. Rogers was looking into the matter yesterday afternoon. Ratliff had not been arrested at noon.

Died Near Pilot Rock.

A farmer named West, residing in Pilot Rock neighborhood, died Thursday. Further particulars could not be learned.

TRUST FINED

Unlawful to Confederate to Control Prices.

Eminence, Ky., Sept. 19.—The American Tobacco company was convicted in the Circuit Court at New Castle to-day of confederating for the purpose of controlling the price of tobacco. A fine of $2,700 was assessed by the jury, which was out for an hour and a half.

GRAYSON HOTEL.

Leitchfield, Ky., Sept. 18.—Three Hotel buildings at Grayson Springs were destroyed last night by fire which originated in the kitchen of resort. The loss is $52,000. The buildings were insured. As the season was practically over, only a few guests were in the hotel, and they managed to get out safely with their effects. One of the buildings destroyed was over eighty years old, the others were modern.

THREE WEDDINGS IN ONE DAY.

Miss Mabel Goodwin Wedded to Mr. John H. Rogers, of Utah.

TWO MORE COUPLES.

Cupid is Getting in His Work Early In the Fall Campaign.

Miss Mabel Goodwin was married Wednesday evening at 8:30 to Mr. John H. Rogers, of Salt Lake City, Utah, at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. Albert S. White. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Millard A. Jenkins, after the prayer meeting service at the Baptist church was over. Mr. Rogers is a Kentuckian who was reared at Cerulean Springs and went to Utah in 1890. Miss Goodwin's old home was in the same neighborhood and their courtship dates back to the time they were children together 25 years ago. Mr. Rogers has prospered in the West and after seventeen years has returned to claim the sweetheart of his youth. He was here on a visit a year ago, which was the first return visit to Kentucky since 1890.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are visiting relatives in Trigg and Caldwell counties this week and will spend next week with Mr. White's family and leave for Utah Oct. 1st.

Bass-Pollard.

William Bass and Miss Mildred Pollard, of Bainbridge, were married in the office of the County Clerk Wednesday and took a bridal trip to the Hagenback show. Esq. W. L. Parker officiated.

Fuller-East.

Coleman Fuller and Miss Icy East, who came to town with the big circus crowd from their home in the county, called at the court house after the show and were united in marriage by Rev. J. M. Rasnake, of the Universalist church.

Come Again.

Four coach loads of the nicest sort of people from Cadiz came to Hagenbeck's circus, besides the great number of Trigg county visitors who drove through in vehicles. So far as we know, all of them had a good time and we hope to see them back during the carnival week. The editor of the Kentuckian was born in sight of Trigg county line and he still loves the good people of Trigg.

GRIM REAPER'S BUSY SEASON.

Many Deaths in the City and County During the Past Week.

MISS JULIA BRADSHAW.

Mr. R. L. Boulware, Once Prominent Shoe Man, Expired Thursday.

Mr. Richard L. Boulware died at his home at 111 South Campbell street Thursday night, in the 70th year of his age. He had been in poor health for a long time. He leaves a widow, who was Flora Ritter, four sons, Alex, Phil, Ben and Logan, and one daughter, Miss Edith Boulware. Another daughter, Mrs. A. S. Cox, died last year.

Mr. Boulware was for many years engaged in the shoe business. He was a veteran of the Union army, a good man and a consistent member of the Christian church. His funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Ninth Street Presbyterian church, by Eld. H. D. Smith, and the interment followed in Riverside Cemetery.

All of his sons came from their homes in other states to attend the last sad rites.
